TEQIP-III Sponsored Six Days Online Short Term Training Program (STTP) on

Computational Techniques and Programming (20 -25, July 2020)

Six days Short term training program was successfully conducted. Secessions were delivered through online mode using Google meet. Training was basically designed for 1st year B.Tech students irrespective of their domains. Main objective of the training program was to make the students aware and understand the important computational tools available in the current scenario. Therefore, entire coverage of the contents of the training were AutoCAD, Solid works, ANSYS, C, C++, Linux & Unix that certainly benefited the students to understand fundamental design and coding tools essentially required for all domain of Engineering. Internal faculties of the Institute along with faculty from SLIET Longowal delivered the all sessions of the program.

Everyday two sessions were conducted each of 1.5 hours. Total 56 students were registered for the program however; approximately 30 students regularly attended the program and get benefitted.
